

My wife and I found out about Jay Nadler through word of mouth – our colleagues had highly recommended Marathon Benefit Corp. We decided that he would be able to offer us some good advice. Years earlier, we had made the error of choosing the wrong kind of insurance and we were having difficulty cancelling the policy without losing all of our savings.

Jay not only took the time to listen to our needs, he also provided a range of suitable options to choose from and acted as our representative in dealing with the other company. But that's not all. A year after we had completed our insurance paperwork with him (long after his obligation to us had been fulfilled), he sent us a reminder email that we would now be able to cancel our first policy with no penalties and get our savings back. He volunteered to facilitate the process and helped us out enormously.

We confidently recommend Jay Nadler and Marathon Benefit Corp to all of our friends and family. His office staff are wonderful – prompt, friendly and excellent at their jobs. Jay is a real professional who provides top notch service with a personable and honest approach. He is principled, progressive and generous. We really believe he has chosen his field of work in order to make people's lives better, and he has definitely done that for us.
